IN THE SOUTH.

A Former Well Known Young Lady of This City Married.

On Wednesday, September 18th, Miss Alice Beardsley, youngest daughter of D. A. Beardsley, formerly of this city, was married at Quana to Mr. Eugene E. Stearns, a young business man of that city.

The young lady's many friends in this city will be glad to know of her marriage to such an all round gentleman.

The Quana Chief, published at that place, has the following to say:

"STEARNS—BEARDSLEY.
"Married, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lewis, at Quana, Wednesday evening, September 18th, at 9 o'clock, Mr. Eugene E. Stearns and Miss Alice Beardsley, Rev. Jacobs of Vernon officiating.

"The wedding was a very quiet affair, only a few of the bride and groom's most intimate friends being present.

"Miss Beardsley, the fair young bride, is the youngest daughter of Dr. D. A. Beardsley of Kentucky, and she was born and educated in that state, but for the past few years has been making her home with her sister, Mrs. W. G. Lewis of this city. She is deservedly popular with all and has by her many charming graces and true womanly traits won the love and esteem of all her associates, and Mr. Stearns is indeed to be congratulated on winning such a true woman for a companion through this life.

"Mr. Stearns, the groom, has lived in Quana since it was a town, having come here from Wichita Falls with the first and has been with the hardware firm of W. G. Lewis all the time. To say that no young man, here or anywhere else, stands higher with all who know him, both socially and from a business standpoint, than Eugene Stearns, but tells the simple truth. Honest, upright and possessed of true nobility of character, Mr. Stearns is well calculated to make the woman of his choice happy and richly deserves the lovely young bride he has won.

"The young couple have engaged rooms at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fewell, where they will for the present, make their home.

"The Chief extends its heartiest congratulations and wishes for the young people the choicest blessings of an all-wise Father, and that their happiness may contain no bitter dread, but overflow with pure and unalloyed joy and content.

"The young people were the recipients of a number of handsome presents from their friends.

George W. Frost and Miss Agnes Frost, both of Peebles, O., were married last night by Judge Hutchins.

William Clark, colored, was arrested at Ripley yesterday by Constable Dawson. He is wanted for stealing about $45 worth of hides from the slaughter-house of Wood Bros. He wouldn't return without $5000.

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN.

A Young Lady Missing From Her Home in Robertson County.

Sunday afternoon, between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock, a young lady by the name of Straus, living in the Southern part of Robertson county, left home to make a visit to a neighboring young lady of her acquaintance.

But she never got as far as the young lady's home.

Her parents, thinking perhaps that she had concluded to stay all night, thought nothing of her absence, and on Monday morning her father rode over to the house where his daughter was supposed to have gone, and upon inquiring as to whether or not his daughter was there, was informed that she had never been there.

He at once began to search for her, but the whereabouts of the young lady still remains a mystery.

She has disappeared as mysteriously as if the earth had opened and swallowed her. She is said to have been a very pretty young lady.

BUCK-HEFLIN NUPTIALS.

Mr. Charles Buck and Miss Mollie Heflin Married This Morning.

A pretty home wedding took place this morning at the residence of Mrs. James A. Heflin, in which Miss Mollie Heflin and Mr. Charles W. Buck were joined in holy wedlock.

At 8:30 o'clock the young couple entered the parlor, where, under the brilliant lights and in the presence of a few relatives and intimate friends, the young hearts were made one by the Rev. D. P. Holt of the M. E. Church.

The bride is the third daughter of the late Colonel James A. Heflin, a beautiful young lady of rare accomplishments and talent. She looked lovely in a traveling costume of blue and carried in her hand a handsome Bible, the gift of her mother.

The fortunate groom is one of Aberdeen's most popular and energetic young men. This day was in the employment of Myall & Shackelford of this city. Mr. Buck is to be congratulated upon having chosen one of Maysville's fair sex for a life long companion.

The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and valuable gifts.

Immediately after congratulations and best wishes Mr. and Mrs. Buck left for Old Point Comfort and Huntington, W. Va.

Richmond's new L. and N. Depot will cost $4,000.

Peebles's fine old Wine, Whiskies and Brandies at Chenoweth's Drugstore.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. P. Browning are rejoicing over the arrival of a new son.

Married, at Cincinnati on September 17th, Mr. William Benson of Cincinnati and Miss Lillian Clark, daughter of Mr. I. W. Clark of this city.

Mr. Albert N. Huff announces himself in today's LEADER as a candidate for City Assessor. Mr. Huff needs no introduction to our people. He is qualified in every particular for the office, as he served our people in that capacity for three years, and his administration was creditable in the extreme.

Mr. Peter L. Parker, aged about 68 years, who fell at his home near Washington some three weeks ago and broke his arm and sustained other severe injuries, died yesterday morning. The funeral will occur tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, with services by Rev. W. W. Hall. The remains will be brought to this city for interment in the Maysville Cemetery.

What Baseballists Are Doing All Around About Us.

Captain McGinn, the best all round ball player in the country, left yesterday afternoon for his home at Shelbyville.

The genial, good natured Captain made many friends in Maysville during the past ball season who are sorry to give him up.

When asked as to whether or not he would be with us again next season, he replied that he did not know, and further stated that he had several good offers, one of them from a League Captain.

Well, there's one thing dead sure,—he's fit for any company on the diamond, and the club that gets him is fortunate indeed, as he is as good a ball player as ever wore a uniform.

Had he made the fact known Monday that he intended going home there would have been a old-time on-opening Monday night, and Captain McGinn would have been the guest of honor.

The LEADER wishes him success wherever he goes.

SHORT STOPS.

Catcher Billy Clark of the Baltimore will be married today to Miss Isabelle Taylor Thomas, one of Baltimore belles.

In the list of scores published yesterday it was Clarksville that played Maysville Saturday, September 17th, instead of Hopkinsville.

The Digby Bell Company will give the Baltimore players a benefit at Harri's Academy October 7th and 8th, the play being the new opera, "Nancy Lee."

Anson will win a few of his bets this year. One was that Chicago would finish in the first division and beat out New York. Another was that Boston would not finish better than fourth.

Cup games seem to be all the rage this season. Springfield and Providence are now engaged in a series for the Steiner Cup; Wilkesbarre and Scranton are battling for the "Tribune" Cup; Norfolk and Portsmouth are contesting for the Chapman & Jakeman Cup and Richmond and Lynchburg are struggling for the Green Cup.

It is a candidate for re-election as Auditor, that is, he is seeking an endorsement from the people, and it is a matter of supreme importance that no avenue of information be closed to the public before it expresses its approval or disapproval of the Auditor's office.

Further, Auditor Norman and Candidate Norman are one, and this one is also Chairman of the Campaign Committee.

Under these circumstances the public is not apt to be tolerant of flimsy accusations of criminal libel, when the libel appears to be a comment on an extract from the message of Governor Brown.

There is another feature in this case which deserves comment. The indictment was not returned until late Thursday evening, yet several days prior to the action the following paragraph appeared in The Frankfort Capital:

"It has been an open secret for several days that the local Grand Jury was investigating the libelous articles that have been published in The Louisville Commercial under a Frankfort date-line, and the report comes so straight as to be believed beyond the peradventure of a doubt that indictments for criminal libel have been found and will be returned in a few days against D. Elliott Kelley, correspondent; Walter Forrester, Managing Editor; President du Pont, several other individuals, and the Louisville Press Company, publishers of The Louisville Commercial. The criminal libel for which the parties named are said to have been indicted consists in the publications concerning the Auditor's office and the reports of the Auditor. It is not known

HARDIN DENOUNCED

For Attempting to Silence Legitimate Political Criticism.

The Louisville Post, the most high-toned and self-respecting of the great Democratic daily newspapers of Kentucky, says of Auditor Norman's self-proclaimed indictment:

"The action of the Franklin Grand Jury has been of a character so extraordinary, it has so much the aspect of political persecution, it runs at so many points contrary to law and fact, contrary to reason and justice as to call for consideration and condemnation by the press and the public."

It appears to be true that the Grand Jury of Franklin county has indicted for criminal libel Mr. B. du Pont, an owner of stock in The Louisville Commercial; R. M. Kelly, Editor of The Commercial, and Walter Forrester, Managing Editor of the same paper.

This indictment, it appears, is based on an article which appeared in The Commercial August 28th, calling for official figures concerning public revenues and expenditures.

This call came in response to the statement, made on the stump and in campaign literature to the effect that Republican Judges and Republican Attorneys were more reckless and extravagant than Democrats occupying similar positions.

The article is reproduced in another column of The Evening Post, and the message of Governor Brown is understood what ground, upon what untenable ground, in our judgment, this indictment rests.

The Commercial bases its reflections on the Auditor upon an extract from the message of Governor Brown.

According to the Governor, "the reports of the Auditor show a balance of $11.04; in fact, there is a deficit of $229,025.77."

On this extract The Commercial charges that "the Auditor clearly attempted to practice fraud, corin and deceit," and that "he has falsified his books as mere Auditor."

These are the facts on which Mr. du Pont, a stockholder, is indicted for criminal libel, though it is known that for four months prior to the publication complained of Mr. du Pont has been absent from the country, and could have had nothing whatever to do with the publication.

Furthermore, as far as The Evening Post can learn, the accusation or statement made by the Governor, as to the actual compaction to the apparent condition of the Treasury, has never been denied.

Yet when a newspaper undertakes to criticize such bookkeeping a partisan Grand Jury and an incompetent prosecuting attorney lead the machinery of the law to muzzle the press.

We can say to Auditor Norman that this action prejudices his case. He appears in three characters before the public.

He is Auditor, and his conduct in office is a perfectly legitimate matter for comment.

He is a candidate for re-election as Auditor, that is, he is seeking an endorsement from the people, and it is a matter of supreme importance that no avenue of information be closed to the public before it expresses its approval or disapproval of the Auditor's office.

Further, Auditor Norman and Candidate Norman are one, and this one is also Chairman of the Campaign Committee.

Under these circumstances the public is not apt to be tolerant of flimsy accusations of criminal libel, when the libel appears to be a comment on an extract from the message of Governor Brown.

There is another feature in this case which deserves comment. The indictment was not returned until late Thursday evening, yet several days prior to the action the following paragraph appeared in The Frankfort Capital:

"It has been an open secret for several days that the local Grand Jury was investigating the libelous articles that have been published in The Louisville Commercial under a Frankfort date-line, and the report comes so straight as to be believed beyond the peradventure of a doubt that indictments for criminal libel have been found and will be returned in a few days against D. Elliott Kelley, correspondent; Walter Forrester, Managing Editor; President du Pont, several other individuals, and the Louisville Press Company, publishers of The Louisville Commercial. The criminal libel for which the parties named are said to have been indicted consists in the publications concerning the Auditor's office and the reports of the Auditor. It is not known when the Grand Jury will make its first report."

"Every member of the Grand Jury, every witness is sworn to secrecy. What occurs in the Grand Jury room, no one is allowed to divulge; it is a grand institution, and if its action on a case of this kind is forecasted, then some one has been guilty of a serious offense."

The truth is, the whole case is an ugly one. The Evening Post asks an license for the press; it believes in even more than ordinary responsibility being imposed on it.

On the other hand, it will not countenance any persecution of the press under the forms of law. It cannot countenance a resort to indictments to intimidate newspapers. The grounds for this indictment are frivolous, and the indictment of Mr. du Pont is a reflection on the official capacity of the officer who drew the papers.

This is no way to quiet popular dissatisfaction with the conduct of public office. The Evening Post has discredited the vague accusation and the mere intimations of irregularities. It has not aspired to what the state Government was spending too much money, but too little. But that is for the Legislature to decide, and all expenditures, all payments, should follow the law, and the public accounts must faithfully portray the facts.

That we have believed the book would do, but this belief is not strengthened by any attempt to stifle the press criminal libel.

It Was Presented to Murphy College by Hon. W. H. Cox.

Hon. W. H. Cox, the efficient and Christian Mayor of this city, presented Murphy College at Sevierville, Tenn., a handsome flag, and here's the letter President J. C. Eckles of the College wrote him:

SEVIERVILLE, TENN., Sept. 24, 1895.
Hon. W. H. Cox, Maysville, Ky.—Dear Sir: There came to our address today a beautiful flag, which we learn is intended for Murphy College. We learn also from Rev. Dr. Rees of Cincinnati that you are the donor. I write to acknowledge the receipt of the flag, and to express to you our thanks for the handsome present.

We will have a flag-raising in a few days, and after the flag is saluted, three cheers will be given to the donor of the flag. I have never seen a flag as large as this in Sevier county. It is a "thing of beauty and a joy forever."

Again I thank you for the kind remembrance, and subscribe myself yours very truly.

KENTUCKY REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

We are opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, believing that it would ruin the country in financial ruin. We believe in a sound currency and in the use of both gold and silver for currency, provided always that a dollar in one is as good as a dollar in the other.
We favor a tariff as regulated as to protect the interests of all classes of our citizens upon articles that may be successfully manufactured or produced in this country, thus insuring good wages to the laborer and a home market to the producer; and in connection with this we favor the re-establishment of the doctrine of reciprocity, to believe that such a system will defray every Government expense, gradually liquidate all indebtedness, restore public confidence and redress to the rural industry, settlement now prevailing concerning the currency. In view of the present financial history of the Democratic party, its denunciation of the old state bank system and wildcat tendencies, we affirm that the Republican party can be more safely trusted to regulate the financial system of the Nation.
We favor an American policy which will protect American and American interests in any part of the world at all hazards and will sympathize with struggling Republics rather than ignorant monarchies.

METROPOLITAN LIKE.

Paris has a Boulevard of the Stars.
New York has a Boulevard of the Stars.

The Boulevard of the Stars was the scene of a novel love affair—kind of a "night mare" love—Saturday about half past ten.
The event was a meeting between Wallace Whaley's pony and a thoroughbred horse owned by John Fowler—which was won in a blow-out by the thoroughbred.

The star and the mare were made by the light of a lantern hanging in the judge's stand.

The event was witnessed by about one hundred boys and men and quite a number of moosey-looking fellows on the hill.
The event has caused considerable talk in horse circles.

A foot race, half mile dash, between two boys, for a purse of thirty cents, was run before the big race.

A CAVE-IN.

Joe Pleasant Valley's Small Took a Lumber Yes—No.

About 12 o'clock yesterday the Pleasant Valley men on the K. C. Division of the I. and N. arrived here.
The place where it occurred is very near the center, about forty feet of earth had sunk in and completely blocked the track.
The 12:15 train was left this city on time, but it was a close work.

Travel will likely be resumed by tomorrow, but it will be some time before the tunnel will be through the rock.
It is to be hoped that the company will repair it as fast as there will be no more cave-ins.

DRY WEATHER

Very Favorable for the Picking of Cotton.

The Corn, Except the Late Crop, is Safe From Frost.

General Rainfall Needed in Kentucky—Wheat and Rye Seedling and Tobacco Cutting Proceeding in Indiana.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—This is the second successive week over most of the country east of the Rocky mountains, with an entire absence of rain over much of the central valleys, Atlantic coast and Ohio states. Corn, except a small part of the late crop in Ohio and Indiana, is now safe from frost. The weather condition of the week has been generally favorable for cutting and gathering corn, which work is in general progress. The warm, dry weather has also been favorable for cotton picking, which has made good progress. The reports show that cotton picked rapidly during the week and that the country is warm and dry weather has forced the young bolls to open prematurely.

Complaints of damage by insects have continued to indicate decrease. While the growth of the tobacco has been retarded by drought, the warm, dry weather has been favorable for picking and curing throughout the Ohio and central Mississippi valleys all plowing and seeding have been much retarded through drought, and general rains in these sections are needed to place the ground in condition for this work. Freezing temperatures occurred throughout the central and northern Rocky mountain regions, with deep snow to considerable depth in portions of Idaho, Wyoming and Colorado, and to a lesser growth of vegetation generally in that region and caused much injury, especially to fruit trees in Utah and Colorado.

Kentucky—Abnormally high temperature and sunny weather. A general rainfall is needed, as continued drought will prove injurious. Pastures and corn drying and stock water scarce.

Ohio—Rainfall light in southern and western counties, but heavy elsewhere. Wheat and rye seedling and corn and tobacco cutting progressed. Abnormal warm and sunny weather. Late corn rapidly. Some rye ripened early and crop will be improved where rainfall was sufficient.

Indiana—Hot, sunny, dry weather during the week. Corn and tobacco rapidly. Most is now in shock and nearly all safe from frost. Tobacco is being housed rapidly. Wheat and rye coming up nicely.

TOWN DESTROYED.

Yamori, Cuba, Devastated by the Insurgents.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25.—After an unsuccessful search for Yamori, a Cuban seaport, the British steamer, a fruit carrier, which was sent there to load bananas for Philadelphia, returned to this port Tuesday night and reported that the town had been devastated by the insurgents' torch on September 18 and destroyed, not a house having escaped the ravages of the flames. Several hundred men were picked up along the coast of the former town and brought to Philadelphia on board the Culmers.

Prominent citizens and army officers sympathizers with Spain in her warfare upon the Cubans, and the insurgents determined that in order to reach such sympathy ineffective they would destroy the town. Hundreds of persons, many of them from the poorer classes, were left homeless.

PECULIAR SUIT.

Banks Need Not Honor a Check With Drawer's Name Written by Another. EUGENE, Ky., Sept. 25.—A unusual suit has just been decided in the Madison circuit court. Richard Marcum, a stock dealer of Jackson county, had on deposit in the Richmond national bank, December 15, 1904, the sum of $15, and he gave a check for that amount to one James Bowles. Marcum did not sign his checks, but had them signed by different persons, and when the check for $15 was presented to the amount of $100, for payment the cashier refused to honor it, the signature being in a different handwriting from any check presented before paying to be signed by Marcum. For this failure to honor his check Marcum claimed he had been damaged in his business and reputation to the amount of $1,000, for which amount he brought suit against the bank. The jury brought in a verdict for the bank, thus vindicating the right of the bank to refuse to pay on a check with a doubtful signature.

New York, Sept. 25.—The Herald Tuesday morning publishes the following special correspondence: Santa Cruz del Sul, Cuba, September 16.—A representative of the Herald who visited the insurgent headquarters two days ago, succeeded in obtaining a brief interview with Gen. Bartolomeo Masso, leader of the new rebel government. Gen. Masso talked enthusiastically when approached on the subject of the revolution, its growth and its future prospects. "During the last war," he said, "we never had more than 10,000 men in arms against the Spanish government, and no Cuban general ever led as many as two thousand men into battle. And yet the struggle lasted ten long years and cost Spain the lives of one hundred and fifty thousand men."

"In the present movement we have already forty thousand men in the field, and if we had the arms for them we could muster within a fortnight twice as many. But only about half of these are well armed, the remainder are simply equipped with slings, fire rifles, shot guns, muskets, revolvers and machetes. However, when the expeditions from abroad, which are expected, arrive, our entire force will soon be placed in fighting trim and then active operations will commence. For the present we must keep upon the defensive, content ourselves with harassing the enemies' columns with small guerrilla forces and only make major attacks upon them when we have the opportunity to seize a convoy or capture an outpost, where arms or munitions can be secured. Gen. Masso hopes that 'despite the vigilance at present displayed in the United States, to prevent the shipment of arms to Cuba, President Cleveland may still be one of the first to recognize the belligerent rights of the revolution.'"
